EXPECT ANOTHER ATTACK.

Looked For In a Few Days. ndon, Nov. 2.—Beyond the crop of condon, Nov. 2.—Beyond the copy of ever-recurring rumors, mostly without foundation, there is little news from the front. The official dispatch from General Builer shows Ladysmith was still in fighting trim Sunday, and anticipating a recommencement of the bombardment Monday. There is nothing apparently to justify the triumphant utterances in the British press. While it is admitted there is some room for contratulation there is, it is added, room for grave feat.

The announcement that 2,000 Boers, with big guns, had left Pretoria on their way to the southern border, is said to be merely a ruse to hide the real destination of this force, which it is believed is Ladysmith. Those who are best qualified to express an opinion on the subject believe the quiescence of the Boers is onlinous and they expect shortly to hear of large accessions to the Boers' guns in position and a severe bombaritment of the beleaguered camp.

These islands comprise Tutulia, where is situated the harbor of Pago-Pago, and, further east, Manua, Cloosinga, Ofoc and Rose islands. Outside of Tutulia in this group there is no harbor and but one anchorage, situated on the northwest side of Manua.

In the island of Upolu there is no first-class harbor. Even that of Sainafarta above would require very considerable expenditure to make it of any use, while the inadequacy of Apia as a harbor was clearly shown in the torrible destruction by the tempest of a few years ago.

In the island of Tutulla, besides five ref harbors similar to those in Upolu, there is the harbor of Pago-Pago, which, is a deep and landlocked basin which is easy of approach and perfect security for vessels causes it to out weigh in value all the other islands of the group. It is generally considered by naval experts the lingest harbor in the Pacific ocean.

The Petit Journal and the Croix with its herd of subsidiary Croix throughout the provinces, are also preaching a crusale against England and ignore facts with the same complacency that they did during the Dreyfus campaign. MM. Milevoye, Judet and Drummont made up their minds that the outbreak of hostilities would be marked with victories of the Poers. News of the battles of Glencoe and Elandslangte has not altered the preconceived notions of these stormy petrels of France.

The violence of the irrepressible nationalist press causes no little uneasiness at the Quai d'Orsay, and also among Frenchmen of evenly balanced minds who fear lest retribution may come in a shope which may affect the exhibition of 1969, and injure the pockets of French tradesmen. M. Yves Guyot has had the courage to point out in the Siecle that there are two sides to the Transvaal question and that John Bull is, after all, France's best customer.
